Wheat Unsettled and Lower-Corn Quiet-

CHICAGO.—There was a surprise in store for operators in wheat in this market, and it came in the way of a sharp decline, instead of the advance they had calculated upon. The opening was strong and $5\\(^2\)\(^2 day. The receipts were light and expert clearances again small. In fact, there was nothing new from outside points to cause any special change in the market, and the decline of to-day was credited principally to the selling of a prominent local trader. This party, for several days past, had been a large buyer, and therefore a support to the market, and his adverse action o-day naturally had a doubly depressing effect. At the decline, or inside prices, there was good buying, sufficient to prevent further decline. This buying was supposed to be mainly against saids made early in the day.

Corn ruled rather quiet most of the session, though at times exhibited moderate activity. The feeling, considering the section, in which the recting, considering the section, in which it was relatively steady, and after the easiness displayed around the opening the market ruled comparatively firm. Initial trades were 1/6% chigh valley.

Which the market sold off 1/6/4c, became steady and closed 1/2%/c lower than Monday.

stricted Output OF FLOUR DOES NOT RAISE PRICES

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURG DISPATCH, \ WEDNESDAY, January 2, 1889. Country Produce-Jobbing Prices. The country produce trade has not awakened from its holiday quiet. Retailers and consumers are evidently pursuing the hand to mouth policy until old bills are settled. Butter continues on its downward way; prices are off le at Eigin. If ever greed defeated its own end, it was when, the big advance on Eigin creamery was made a month or more ago. The reaction from fictitious values sought to be established then has sent prices so low that the difference in jobbing rates 'twixt now and then is fully 12c per pound. Eggs, too, continue very slow. There have been few holiday seasons in recent years when eggs brought as low prices as during that just passed. The purchaser who is ready to put up cash will have little difficulty securing the best egg going in job lots at 22c. Poultry is scarce and firm and likely to con-tinue so through the winter, as stuff through the country is reported unusually well cleaned

There was considerable changing of January into the more deferred months, chiefly May.

Oats were nairly active, but weaker and lower. Offerings, during the greater part of the session were liberal, especially from "longs." Buyers appeared rather indifferent about taking hold, as other grains were weaker and lower, hence the market had little support and prices declined %63.5c, and May delivery sold by the series of the market closed easy at inside prices. Specularive trading was quite active in mess pork and prices ruled irregular. Offerings were liberal, especially for May delivery. Early prices were advanced 5c, but the market soon weakened and prices gradually declined $25,30c. Later the market ruled steadier and prices advanced 5g.3c and closed steady. Quite an active business was reported in lard but the business was weak. Prices declined 20 $25c on the whole range, but rallied 56.7%c and closed rather steady.

Considerable interest was manifested in short ribs and trading was quite active. Prices were weak early in the day and declined 156.20c, but East Liberty Yards. THE GRADE OF CATTLE IMPROVED. Light Weight Hogs in Better Demand and Higher Priced.

ber were about 150 cars. Through December the local receipts of cattle at the Liberty yards were not more than one-half those of November. This decline is an index to the large consumption of poultry, game and cysters, which is always a part of the Christmas festivities. Another reason for the decline is the absence of Eastern buyers, who in the fall months laid in their stockers and feeders for this season. The stockers and feeders for of demand from this source, and large poultry and game consumption coming in at the same time, the local cattle demand has suffered a decline, which very materially affects the trade.

The quality of cattle received this week has been better than the average for the past month or two. There has been nothing strictly prime in the receipta, and, in fact, nothing quite up to some received last week. On the other there were scarcely any of the low grade stock.

The new year started off well in financial circles. There was no special movement, but business was quite brisk. Payment of dividends will begin in a day or two. This will put a large volume of money in circulation. Nearly all the banks yesterday reported depositing in excess of withdrawals.

At most of them counter business was lively. The clearing house statement shows a large volume of transactions, very little of which was of a speculative nature.

The exchanges were $2.84,121 20 and the bance $4.876.25 & Easternet exchange ruled about even with curreboy. Rates for borrowing were with curreboy.
